RE: EX PARTE

In the Matter of Creation of a Low Power Radio Service
FCC Docket Nos. 99-25 and 93-25

Dear Ms. Salas,

Representatives of the Alliance for Community Media met on October 26th, 1999 with Marsha MacBride, Legal Advisor to Commissioner Michael Powell to discuss many concerns of the members of the Alliance for Community Media who are concerned with Public, Educational and Governmental (PEG) Access television. Representing the Alliance for Community Media were Bunnie Riedel and Margaret Juliano. In discussing these concerns Ms. Riedel and Ms. MacBride discussed the implementation of low power radio stations, how licenses would be awarded, and the role that PEG centers could play in providing an infrastructure for training.

The discussion primarily concerned the convergence of telecommunications technology and how current regulations will affect the development of new technology as well as general information about the interests and concerns of PEG centers. The year 2000 conversion efforts of Commissioner Powell's office were also addressed, but only in regards to how to use PEG channels for broadcasting video programming from governmental agencies (such as the Department of Education and FEMA).

A copy of this letter has been submitted to the Secretary of the Commission for inclusion in the public record.

Sincerely,

Bunnie Riedel
